10:28 A.M. Bill Biggart's final photo was taken seconds before the north tower of the World Trade Center collapsed, killing him.

Photojournalist Bill Biggart was killed when the second tower of the World Trade Center collapsed; but his camera, along with the pictures he'd shot that morning, was recovered. According to the time recorded on the Canon d30 digital camera he used, this photo was taken just after the first tower collapsed.

Exhibit 23-4

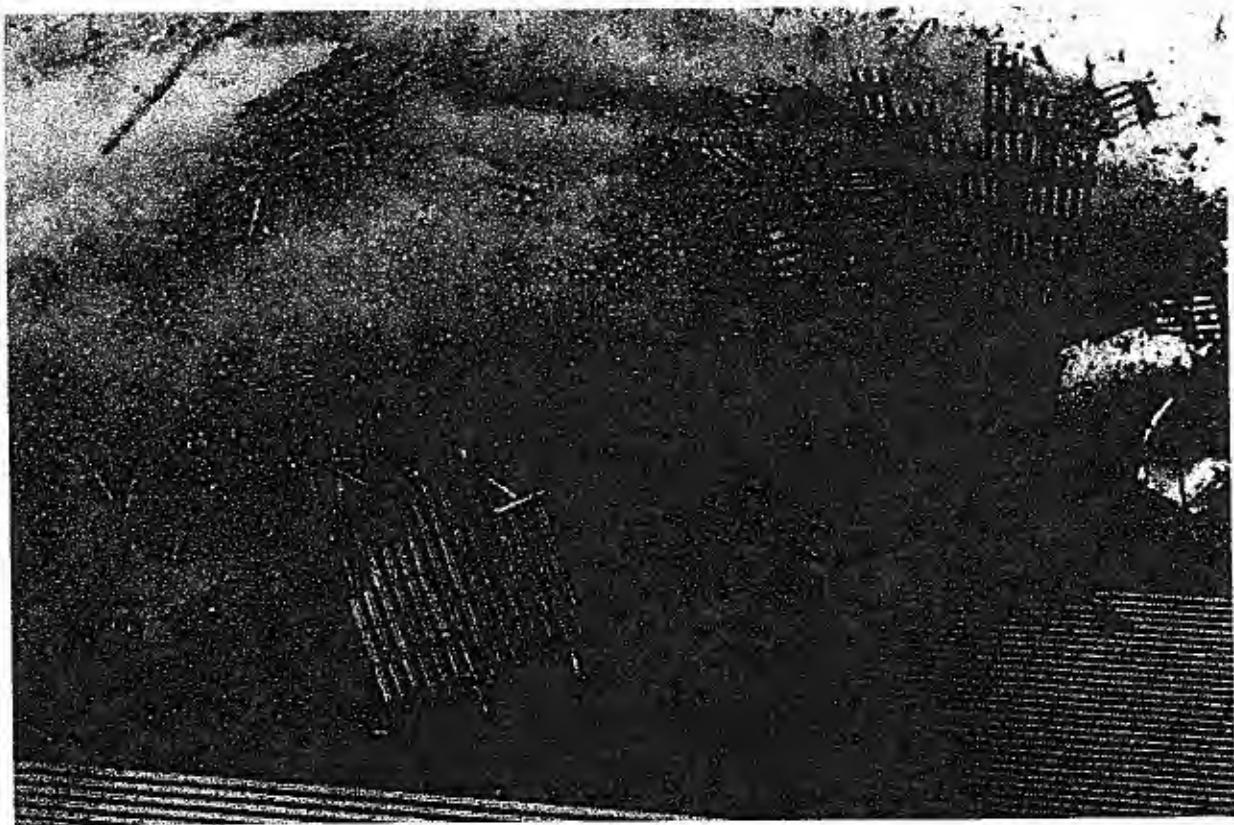

10:00 A.M.
This photo shows the second tower of the World Trade Center still standing, after the first collapsed in a billowing cloud of dust and debris
